Nearly 300 youngsters, some of them hardly out of their baby cradles, others well developed lads, gathered at Cummings field yesterday in the second annual track and field meet of the Salt Lake Sunday schools. It presented a novel sight, these small boys using the exact style and form used by the leading athletes of the state in their annual onslaught on the records. The sprinters had the correct starting form, the jumpers cleared the hurdle pole like so many past masters in the game, and while the distances and times made were far below what the college men do, it was interesting.

These boys have studied the art of running and jumping and some of them can give older and wiser heads points on the game. As an example a conversation between two of the "kids" watching the starts of the fifty-yard dash will show plainly that even at their age they know their business. One little slender youth watching a bunch of his rivals line up for a start in one of the heats, turned to his companion and said: "I tell you there is nothing to it in these short sprints, beat the gun and you win. The man who gets off his mark first at fifty has the race, there is nothing to it."

Just then the gun went off and one youngster did beat it and started for the tape with a good lead. "What did I tell you, there he goes and he wins," came from the wisest kid just as the boy who had beaten the gun, only a fraction of a second, dashed home in front of a dozen youngsters who started in the race. It is an odd trick and many of the boys tried it yesterday, but beating the gun is a hard proposition for the oldest of heads in the sprinting game.

It took many preliminaries before the boys got down to the finals, but each race, preliminary or final, was close and interesting. The race showed the makeup of the boys, and many youngsters seen dashing down the cinder path yesterday have that quality, gameness, which goes a long way toward making a success in life. This determination to fight it out, even when defeat was plainly in sight, was one of the chief features of the meet. Boys of all ages and descriptions were there. Each had his running suit, some wore spike shoes and all liked the sport.

The race between the several Sunday schools for first place was close and it was not until the final event had been run off that the scores were announced. The Illiff Methodist was the winner. By the margin of one race they beat the First Presbyterian, while the St. Paul's were but one point behind. Many of the Sunday schools had their rooting clubs. In fact it was a big athletic meet on a miniature scale.

In the evening the winners were presented with The Herald medals at the Y. M. C. A. by Governor Cutler.

ILLINOIS WINS OVER CHICAGO

These Two Schools Outclass
Others in Western Intercollegiate Meet.

The teams of other institutions were not serious contenders, although Wisconsin looked dangerous for a time, finishing third with 17 points. Missouri and Drake divided fourth and fifth honors, with 9 points each.

One western intercollegiate record was broken, Smithson, of Notre Dame, cutting off a fifth of a second from the record for the 120-yard high hurdles, 15 2-5 seconds, made by F. M. Moloney, of Chicago, in 1902. The western record for the 100-yard dash was equalled by May of Illinois, both in the preliminary and the final heat of the short dash.

BIKE RACES AT SAUCER

First Sunday Meet Scheduled for
This Evening in Which All
Riders Will Compete.

The first Sunday night bicycle race ever held in Utah is scheduled to come off at the saucer track this evening. The management of the track has decided that the public will stand for three meets a week. A strong card has been arranged for the occasion.

Three events for the professionals are on the program this evening. All the "pros" can compete in a two-mile lap handicap and a half-mile open, then a mile race. The race is within the range of possibilities. William Bradley, the millionaire contractor of New York, who purchased the track, is willing and anxious to match the great gelding against any horse in the world.

At Belmont Park.

New York, June 1.—Belmont Park summary: First race, selling, seven furlongs—Rosemont won. Acrost second, Royal Onyx third. Time, 1:26 1-5.

OGDEN SAUCER PROGRAM

Next Meet for Junction City Fans
Will Be Held Wednesday Night.

Ogden's next race meet is to be held on Wednesday night. Manager Heagren announced yesterday that he had received word from Ogden that the public was well pleased with the first meet, and that the outlook was that the game would be well supported in Ogden this year. When the Salt Lake bunch heard this, it was a cause for rejoicing, as the races at Ogden mean just that much more work for the locals, which in turn means that much more money.

The program for next Wednesday night is as follows:

Motor mile exhibition for record. Purses $15.
Two-mile 1/2 handicap professional. Purses $35, split $25, $10, $5 and $2 per lap.

RUNNING RECORD FOR COAST MILE

Sanfaro Beats One of the Best Fields at Oakland in Fast Time.

San Francisco, June 1.—The feature of the racing at Oakland this afternoon was the mile race in which five of the fastest horses at the track sported colors. Sanfaro, off flying, was passed on the back stretch by Optician, who later fell back beaten on the far turn, where Bedford set sail for the leader. He looked to have Sanfaro collared at the saddling paddock, but the mare drew away under punishment, and won by three parts of a length, in 1:28 2-5, which is a new coast record for the mile. Bear Catcher held the previous record of 1:29 1-5, made over this track two years ago. Upsets were numerous during the afternoon. Cabin displayed conspicuous improvement over his previous race, and the officials may take action. Graham rode him the last time out. St. Francis beat Gateway in the fifth race.

The Results.

First race, mile and five-eighths, selling—Talamond, 119; McLaughlin, 4 to 1, won; Harbor, 161; Kirschbaum, 6 to 5, second; Retort, 167; Alarie, 10 to 1, third. Time, 2:46 4-5. Brevolio, Arasa and Rough Rider also ran.
Second race, selling, mile and a sixteenth—Cabin, 109; Kirschbaum, 10 to 1, won; Hugh McGowan, 109; Sandy, 7 to 1, second; Elevation, 169; R. Davis, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:46 4-5. Andrew Mack, Markie Mayer, Moreno, Neptunus, Ed Sheridan, J. P. and Inflammable also ran.
Third race, five furlongs, handicap—College Widow, 108; Gross, 4 to 1, won; Turnaway, 108; Kough, 8 to 1, second; Balade, 81; McLaughlin, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:40 2-5. Raleigh, Alice F. and Albion H. also ran.
Fourth race, mile, special weights—Sanfaro, 35; R. Davis, 11 to 5, won; Bedford, 96; Kirschbaum, 12 to 5, second; Optician, 120; Sanfaro, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:28 2-5. A. Muskodine and Sir Brillar also ran.
Fifth race, seller, four furlongs—St. Francis, 109; R. Davis, 11 to 5, won; Burning Bush, 90; Kirschbaum, 8 to 1, second; Nothing, 102; L. Nichols, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:30. Royal Rogue, The Mist, Lem Reed, Lottie Gladstone and Paddy Lynch finished as named.
Sixth race, six and a half furlongs—Ethel Day, 105; Borel, 14 to 5, won; Security, 107; Fischer, 11 to 13, second; Princess Tiana, 105; Davis, 12 to 5, third. Time, 1:19 4-5. Gateway, Burnette and Integrity also ran.

MAJOR DELMAR-SWEET MARIE RACE ASSURED

At Louisville.

Louisville, June 1.—A match race between Major Delmar and Sweet Marie at the October meeting at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association track is within the range of possibilities. William Bradley, the millionaire contractor of New York, who purchased the track, is willing and anxious to match the great gelding against any horse in the world.

At Belmont Park.

New York, June 1.—Belmont Park summary: First race, selling, seven furlongs—Rosemont won. Acrost second, Royal Onyx third. Time, 1:26 1-5.
Second race, four and a half furlongs—

No. 1. Chester Davis, the small boy who made all the big boys go some in the sprints. Chester was perhaps the most earnest boy in the meet and worked coming down the path as if his life depended upon victory. His efforts brought forth more applause than any event of the day. No. 2. Finish of one of the many heats. No. 3. The youngest of the young crop of athletes. This quartette made one think of the nursery. No. 4. They are not point winners, but for one afternoon they felt as big as any person on the track. No. 5. The start of a sprint race. Notice the boys' form. There may be a McAllister or Brinton in this bunch. No. 6. Left behind in the struggle, but fighting it out to the tape. This shows gameness. No. 7. Joe Maddock is always on the lookout for material for his university football team. This shows Maddock feeling of the muscles of a young athlete and asking him if he would like to try for the team next fall.

GEORGE SILER ON RING FAKERS

Says Jack O'Brien's Confessions Were Already Well Known by Insiders.

BY GEORGE SILER.

Jack O'Brien did not spring a great surprise when he unobscured himself against the fake fights he took part in during his fictitious career.

Those in touch with the fighting game have for years suspected Jack, but as he never was caught with the "goods" until the Los Angeles exposure, he escaped a deserved grilling. His fight with "Young" Peter Jackson, which took place at San Francisco on February 14, 1900, and in which he "flopped" to Peter, always was suspected but never was proven. Since he admitted laying down to Jackson it has been learned that he wrote a relative in Buffalo stating the purse was small and that he could gather more shooks by losing than he could by winning.

His arranging the job with Tommy Ryan and with Joe Walcott was not a startling exposure, but his fixing it with Fitzsimmons, Hugo Kelly and Sam Berger was like the explosion of a bomb. Old man Fitzsimmons has had the confidence of the sporting public ever since his defeat of Jack Dempsey, and the expose will grate harshly on the old fellow's sense of honesty.

Berger Match Suspected.

Jack's bout with Berger at Philadelphia left a dark brown taste in the mouths of those acquainted with O'Brien's methods of commercialism. It was suspected he permitted Berger to make a good showing with expectations of a match over a longer route and for a chunk of money. We did not, however, think they rehearsed the bout in private. His implicating Kelly as an accessory to his crimes brought forth a strong denial from Kelly's manager, who declares his man defeated Jack fairly and squarely in that Indianapolis bout. Fortunately for the sport all the men, except Kelly, that O'Brien says he did business with are out of the game. Fitz is too old and has not been taken seriously since he lost to Ryan, and Kelly, Walcott and Jackson have been out of the running for quite a while. Perhaps Jack's mind is now relieved. He has confessed his crookedness and escaped with the spurs.

Chicago Man Wins St. Louis Race.

St. Louis, June 1.—S. H. Hatch of Chicago won the twenty-five-mile Marathon race from Freeburg, Ill., to St. Louis, today in 2 hours, 35 minutes and 26 seconds. Alexander Thibault of Chicago, second; Charles Traut of St. Louis, third. The entire course was over muddy roads.

Cohort won, Beaumont second; Uncle third. Time, 52 seconds.

Third race, the National Stallion, $5,000 added, five furlongs—Colin won, Barnone second, Ben Fleet third. Time, 58 seconds.

Fourth race, the Internal steeplechase, about two miles—Pagan Boy won, Mr. McCann second, Fallahen third. Time, 3:59.

Fifth race, mile—Dolly Spanker won, Tiling second, Sir Tiddington third. Time, 1:39.

Sixth race, seven furlongs—Glenham won, Bright Boy second, Rio Grande third. Time, 1:26 2-5.

At Louisville.

Louisville, June 1.—Summary:

First race, six furlongs—Bossier won, Adosco second, Marmoreau third. Time, 1:18 2-5.

Third race, mile handicap—Cablegram won, Phil Finch second, The Minks third. Time, 1:42 2-5.
